

Allow plenty of time to Stop for the Sign

Our School Crossing Patrols dedicate their time and efforts into keeping families safe on school journeys and in doing so they actively encourage children to get fit and healthy by walking, scooting, and cycling, which can only be a good thing.

This October we're taking this opportunity to promote the good work our patrols do and we're reminding people of the importance of stopping for the lollipop sign.

During this month our patrols have been wearing a special tabard for 'Stop Means Stop', our campaign which works to educate drivers and riders to respect their patrol and always stop for the lollipop.

Our campaign highlights that it is illegal to drive or ride past a patrol standing in the road, with their stop sign on display. This action can not only result in three penalty points on a driving licence and a fine of up to £1000, but it can also be dangerous to the patrol and anyone who is near the crossing at the time. 'I'm running late' is never an excuse.

So, whatever you choose to drive or ride on the roads of Hertfordshire, please always choose to stop for the lollipop sign, show the patrol the respect they deserve, avoid the penalties and protect everyone, thank you.
